Inviting submissions for the 2021 Dissertation Award

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research invites submissions for its 27th annual prize for the best PhD dissertation on employment-related issues.

A first prize of $2,500 is being offered. Up to two honorable mention awards of $1,000 may also be given.

The Institute supports and conducts policy-relevant research on issues related to employment, unemployment, and social insurance programs. The dissertation award furthers this mission. The dissertation may come from any academic discipline, but it must have a substantial policy focus.

Dissertations will be evaluated by a panel of economists using the following criteria:

- Policy relevance
- Technical quality of the research
- Presentation

Any person whose dissertation has been accepted during the 24-month period from July 1, 2019 to June 30, 2021 is eligible for the 2021 prize. The deadline for submission is July 5, 2021. Applicants must upload a 10-page summary of the dissertation, CV, and a letter of endorsement from their dissertation advisor at:

https://www.upjohn.org/form/dissertation-award

Applicants are advised that they will need to supply a copy of their entire dissertation if they are selected as a finalist, and they may apply for the award only once.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting us at communications@upjohn.org. Information is also available at https://www.upjohn.org/about/grants-awards/dissertation-award.
